

Su Casa

WINTER 2004

AT HOME IN THE SOUTHWEST

INSIDE
New Mexico's BEST

Interior
design
AWARDS

TIME TESTED Territorial style

Another side of SANTA FE

VOL. 10 NO. 1
SuCasaMagazine.com

$4.95

41 >

0 74470 86730 2

President's Award
Marty and Owen Nelson, Inside Out Design

Left: Working with a monochromatic palette, David Naylor of Visions Design Group in Santa Fe matched Venetian plaster to Turkish travertine floors, creating a unified interior envelope. This dramatic room incorporates diverse elements of an individualistic collection without feeling busy, cluttered, or chaotic. "The designer took chances," one judge commented, noting the dramatic walls and ceiling.

Above: The judges gave the President's Award to the kitchen design by Marty and Owen Nelson of Santa Fe's Inside Out

Design, citing its variety of texture and contemporary updates, such as the stone tile backsplash, three new skylights, and cabinetry by Santa Fe Door of Albuquerque. In the face of challenges typically encountered when renovating an old adobe, the Nelsons exercised considerable creativity in updating a Santa Fe classic without sacrificing its historical ambience. The kitchen includes all-new Kitchenaid appliances, new walnut floors, hand-carved island and hood, and hard-troweled walls.

PRESIDENT'S AWARD

Marty and Owen Nelson, Inside Out Design

JUDGES' AWARD

Marc Coan, J. Wheeler Ltd./The Branch Cabinetry

SU CASA SOUTHWESTERN STYLE AWARD

Susan Westbrook, Susan Westbrook Interiors

LIVING ROOM

First place: David Naylor, Visions Design Group

Second place: Malea Mason, ASID, Mason Davis Interiors

Third place: Susan Westbrook, Susan Westbrook Interiors

BEDROOM

First place: Moses Zabec, Moses at Home

Second place: Jan Coughlin, Interior Impact

Third place: Helen Mumford